Short description of the organization (max. 1200 characters)	Association PaRiter is feminist non-profit, organization that promotes human rights, culture of non-violence, tolerance, minority rights and gender equality and women's rights by linking non-formal education, research and activism. In 2018, the association has become an anti-discrimination point of the Ombudsman in Croatia. We have two main areas of acting, each with specific aims: 1. Protection of women's rights: protection of women's reproductive rights and improve conditions for their implementation; create equal possibilities and gender equality in the employment process, work and promotion; ensure equal participation of women in social, economic and political life. 2. Promotion of the culture of non-violence, solidarity and development of active citizenship: development of active and responsible civic participation among youth; promotion of respect toward human rights, and support to advocacy and awareness raising initiatives. In the field of empowering gender equality movement and women's rights, we have done different activities (training, research, campaigns, advocacy, workshops, roundtables, etc.) and we have an advisory centre for women regarding their reproductive rights. In the field of youth, we have cooperated with numerous student dorms and high schools using non-formal learning methods, human libraries and forum theatres, and we are members of the GOOD initiative which aims to implement civil education in Croatian schools. We have implemented more transnational youth initiatives (topics: comprehensive sexuality education, gender equality). We also cooperate with the University in Rijeka, among other organizations, in the implementation of the course Gender, sexuality, identities – from oppression to resistance, based on service learning method.
