TCA DESCRIPTION

Themes and goals: The conference on 'Living and teaching European values today' aims to provide educators with practical tools to incorporate democratic principles, media literacy, historical awareness, and critical thinking into their teaching, equipping pupils to participate meaningfully in democratic processes. The conference addresses the Erasmus priority 'Participation in democratic life, common values and civic engagement' and will highlight how both formal and non-formal learning activities can foster European values, enabling pupils to engage meaningfully in democratic processes and understand their roles as citizens within the European Union. It will also examine the role of history education in shaping democratic values and the potential to use education as a tool for combatting disinformation and fostering peaceful, inclusive societies. Guiding Questions: How can we involve all pupils in political education and strengthen democratic participation inside and outside of schools? How can pupils be empowered against the dangers of misinformation, disinformation, societal polarization, xenophobia, racism, antisemitism, and fundamentalism? How can collaborative work and blended learning succeed - in the classroom and in Erasmus projects? What are the tools to educate young people on the foundations of democracy, history, and civic engagement? How can we empower pupils with Erasmus+ to challenge distorted narratives and navigate in an increasingly complex world with integrity and resilience?

Expected results: The conference will present scientific views and innovative Erasmus projects so that participants can deepen their knowledge on the conference topics. The conference will highlight ways in which schools and teachers can profit from Erasmus+ school projects including eTwinning and the European School Education Platform. Special attention will be given to blended mobility and the use of eTwinning in the classroom and in project work. In exchange with each other and with the help of experts in the field, the participants will discuss and develop concepts for school projects and school development. The conference will offer networking opportunities for schools and institutions in the school sector to find partners and initiate new Erasmus projects (mobility projects, cooperation projects, eTwinning projects). Participants will receive further input through workshops and the conference will provide space for networking activities and reflection on the lessons of history.

Additional information: Travel expenses, accommodation and meals: Travel costs will be reimbursed by each sending National Agency. The German National Agency will book and pay single hotel rooms for each participant at the conference venue. All meals during the seminar are covered by the German National Agency. Additional information on the profile of participants: We would like to extend a special invitation to representatives of preschools, schools, and school-related institutions working on the conference topics that are located in remote or rural areas, in areas with limited public transport and inadequate facilities, in regions with a high proportion of voters for right-wing populist parties, or in urban suburbs with a high concentration of families dependent on social benefits or living below the poverty line.

Important notes:

Selected participants will be notified at the earliest possible opportunity so that they can reserve travel tickets in advance and benefit from early booking discounts. The official start of the conference is on Wednesday, 7th of May 2025, at 7 p.m. sharp. The optional programme starts with lunch at noon. Check-in at the hotel will be possible from 3 p.m. onwards. The conference ends on Friday, 9th of May, at 1 p.m. Please be aware that participants who leave before the end of the conference or miss large parts of it may not receive certificates of attendance. Financing All hosting costs (accommodation from 7 – 9 May, meals, conference costs, and cultural programme) will be covered by the hosting National Agency.
