

Share your culture. Inspire young minds. Connect with Slovenia.

Are you an international student in Slovenia?
Share your culture, inspire young learners and make your time in Slovenia even more meaningful through World in Classroom.

What is WIC?

World in Classroom (WIC) is a national project connecting international students who come to Slovenia through different programmes, such as Erasmus+, CEEPUS, Erasmus Mundus, bilateral agreements and other international exchange programmes, with interested educational institutions throughout Slovenia.

By visiting a school or kindergarten, international students have the opportunity to present their home country, culture, language and personal experiences to Slovenian children, pupils, students and teachers. Through WIC, students bring an international perspective into Slovenian classrooms while gaining insight into the Slovenian education system and local community.

Why participate?

Participating in the WIC project is an excellent opportunity to:

- ♦ share your story – present your country, culture, language and traditions to Slovenian learners and teachers;
- ♦ discover the Slovenian education system – gain first-hand insight into schools and kindergartens in Slovenia;
- ♦ develop intercultural skills – meet new people, communicate across cultures and build meaningful connections;
- ♦ enrich your mobility experience – make your stay in Slovenia more memorable and valuable;
- ♦ share your international experience – inspire learners by talking about studying abroad and international opportunities.

By visiting a school or kindergarten, you also create a more diverse, creative and inspiring learning environment while becoming an active part of the local community.

How to participate?

1 Apply for the WIC project
International students interested in participating submit an online application form, where they provide information about themselves, their background, interests and preferred timing of the visit.

2 CMEPIUS connects students and educational institutions
CMEPIUS collects applications and matches international students with interested schools, kindergartens or other educational institutions throughout Slovenia based on their wishes, interests and availability.

3 Visit a Slovenian educational institution
The student and the institution arrange the details of the visit together, including the topic, activities and schedule. During the visit, students can present their home country, language, culture, traditions, student life or any other topic they would like to share.

4 Receive confirmation of participation
After the visit, the educational institution provides the student with a confirmation of participation, and CMEPIUS reimburses the student's travel expenses related to the visit.
